Invitation for
FINAL CONFERENCE ON AISAMAR PROJECT
AT UNCC, BANGKOK, THAILAND
on 27th October, 2005

ASIAMAR is a project under the ASIA E.U. IT&C Programme aiming at building strong and sustainable links between the Asian and the European IT&C (Information Technology and Communication) societies in the area of Intermodal Freight and Maritime Transport, as well as Short Sea Shipping. After three successful Workshops (in Thessaloniki-Greece and in Bangkok-Thailand and in Jakarta, Indonesia), the final ASIAMAR Conference will take place in Bangkok at UNCC on the date of October 27, 2005. The subject of the Conference is:

“Developing Intermodal Freight Transport: the European and Asian Experience”

The Conference will give the participants the opportunity to obtain an insight of the latest developments in the area of intermodal freight transport. Well-known experts and professionals from both geographical regions will share their views and experiences, while they will also raise their awareness on the current undertakings in the field of Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) for cargo and port management, Organizational, institutional, and training issues and Security and safety issues in freight transport. International organizations, business entities, governmental bodies, universities, shipping companies, forwarders and other members of the freight transport community will be involved in the Conference.
